It seems that "the bosses" in Congress will never learn any sense. WHY HE IS CRITICISED.

Probably The Tribune should give its casons for its repeated and somewhat severe criticisms of Joseph F. Smith. president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. That this paper has sufficient cause goes without saying with those who are informed upon the subject, and who have the welfare of Utah at heart; but there are those who are not acquainted with the facts, and who may deem that we are unduly severe. And for their information we explain.

Passing the long story which would Certainly there were some Odd Felover the period of Mormon existence antedating arrival of the first Mormon settlers in this valley-(It is long and painful, and out of the experience came a partially-chastened people into Utah, whose chief wee had been wrought by sinful and even criminal leaders)-we good was compelled to retreat. THE HILTON CASE AGAIN. The Utah Supreme Court has dealt its chief object the nullification of all into through sealing, but as to the living status of that marriage during Dr. reality, as his later utterances show, of property were concerned. At that tions in Utah, where the church usurps time the purchaser could not possibly have any notice that Mrs. Hilton claimed to be the wife of Dr. Park. She was living in the habit and repute of marriage with Mr. Hilton; while Dr. Park was living in the habit and repute of a bachelor. The sealing ceremony performed between the two, on the supposed death-bed of the woman, was never consummated by them in wedlock; both went on their separate ways as though it had never been performed. Dr. Park never, so far as known, recognized it as a marriage in any way About the best evidence that she did not is seen in the fact that she married Mr. Hilton and bore him a number of children in reputed wedlock. And yet, the ceremony was undoubtedly a marriage with Park, legally; and dreds of Mormons have broken the law; as neither of the parties to it botained other. as neither of the parties to it obtained exasperated in the one case as in the held it binding. UNFAIR ASSESSMENTS.

We see again this year the same old punitive methods applied on the assessment roll against this city; the raise in values of the assessment for this county the present year totals $6,290,-803. Of this $5,600,700 is in Salt Lake City alone. Increase in the county outside of the city was $690,103. This is plastering it on the city pretty thick. The same sort of increase was put upon the city last year, to the exemption of the county. And now the discrimination is repeated, the city being increased more than ten times as much as the county.

The purpose is evident this year, the same as last year. The county authorities are placing the tax burdens upon the city, partly to relieve the rest of the county, on political party grounds, and on that the result of that election partly to punish the residents of the was distasteful to it-was adverse to city, also on political party grounds. That paper is, therefore, dishonest with its readers, and unworthy of their confidence. It does not print the news. It is subscribers cannot depend upon getting in its columns even the meast important events of the time. It is a very serrous matter for a paper to loss the confidence of the community and sink into public contempt. Yet that is precisely the plight of the Smoot paper today.

THE TREES PLANTED.

The report is that upwards of 30,000 trees were planted by the school children and through the direct agencies of the schools, in this city, on Arbor Day. No doubt many more than 200,000 trees were planted through out the State on that day. A bost of trees, indeed. And if this activity is continued for a century, and the trees preserved, Utah will be a well-wooded State.

But are all the trees preserved? How many trees are there now alive and thrifty? Nay, bow many of these planted five years ago, as part of the Arbor Day we exercises? NO ROOM FOR PARTIES.

A few days ago, noting the occasion of the thirty-ninth anniversary of The parently the idea of protecting and Salt Lake Tribune, the Ogden Standard caring for the trees after they are said that this paper ought to come planted, seeing that they form a thrifty over into the Republican party, where and permanent growth, has not taken it belonged. In this the Standard errs. The Tribune does not belong in the church-ridden Republican party of years go by. When it does, then the Utab. The Tribune tried faithfully for a number of years to have a free Republican party in Utah. But the church control grew more and even more com plete and unmasked; so we had to de part from the iniquity of it, and aid in founding a political party whose with the Hilton case again, not by way members would be their own men and women, independent of church or other he tried to set up, and which had for to the actuality of a marriage entered extraneous and usurping dominance in their civil, political, and other temporal affairs.

It is impossible under present condicontrol of both parties and of the political acts of its members, that any real political parties can exist without a complete repudiation of that church usurpation. It will be remembered that in the election of 1908, the Mormon leaders had made the condition that its members must vote the local Republican ticket or be stigmatized as "traitors to their church." from the standpoint of Republicanism, this church control, this drawing a line of politics on the religious basis, is just as obnoxious when it favors the Republican party as when it favors the Democratic party. The principle is precisely the same in each case. And every real party man, who can call his soul his own, must be quite as

The Battle of San Jacinto.

Although Texas had declared her independence of Mexico on March 2, 1836, on the anniversary of the birthday of Sam Houston, its ilberator, it remained for the final battle of San Jacinto, which was fought on April 21 following, to fully establish the freedom of the new republic.

Less than a month after the fall of the Alamo a force of Americans under Colonel Tannin that had surrendered were, by order of Santa Anna, the Mexican general, shot down in defiance of civilized methods. Houston, in the meantime, was covering the retreat of fugitives. Santa Anna was advancing, and the opposing forces met at San Jacinto. The American wat cry was "Remember the Alame." The battle was over in twenty minutes, and more than half of the Mexican force of 1466 lay dead on the field. Only six Texass were killed and twenty-five wounded. Santa Anna was taken prisoner. In this battle, Houston was shot through the ankle and his horse, after being wounded ten times, dropped dead.

An empire had been won.

Santa Anna, in the uniform of a common sodier, was trying to escape on the banks of the bayou. It was not until he was brought into camp and the prisoner's shouted "El Presidente:" that his identity was discovered.

oners shouted "El Presidente:" that his identity was discovered.

But for Houston Santa Anna would have been killed; but wise man that he was he knew that Santa Anna alive was invaluable to Texas, while his assassination would bring upon the young republic the condemnation of the world. Only the will of Houston saved Santa Anna that day and in the later days of his captivity when he was condemned to feath.
